

Legal Disclaimer

Dear Visitor,

By visiting our website, you will be deemed to have agreed with and undertaken the Legal Notices specified in this section.

Although this website has been meticulously prepared, Ata Holding A.Ş. (“Ata Holding”) does not give any explicit or implicit guarantees that the information and/or contents included and/or referred to in the website are complete, up-to-date, accurate and proper for the purposes of use of this website by the user.

Ata Holding (including its affiliates, associated companies, company authorised persons and employees) does not accept any liability for the following, to the extent allowed under the law:

- Ata Holding makes every effort to ensure that this website is available and accessible for 24 hours and 365 days. However, the website may experience interruptions from time to time due to reasons attributable to the server or for other technical reasons. Therefore, Ata Holding may not be held responsible for non-accessibility of the website.
- Ata Holding does not accept liability for any loss of hardware and software, viruses and other problems and/or loss of time that may occur in the computer(s) of website users arising from use of this website, and the responsibility for any such losses will be borne by you, as our visitors.
- Ata Holding may not be held responsible for any losses or damages that may occur due to transactions made in reliance upon information and contents on the website.
- All information and contents included in the website other than those that are stated in this Notice to have been taken from other websites and all legal rights relating to such contents belong exclusively to Ata Holding and using any such information by even modifying the same or giving references will constitute violation of rights. All written and visual materials and data contained in this website as well as all intellectual property rights in relation to Ata Holding logo and/or all kinds of intellectual property rights on the website belong to Ata Holding and may not be used. Creating links to this website is absolutely prohibited unless prior written consent of Ata Holding has been obtained. By entering this website, you also undertake not to violate intellectual property rights.
- Furthermore, the website indicates certain trademarks over which our associated companies hold right of use and these trademarks may only be used by our associated companies and their authorised persons within the scope of relevant agreements. You, our users, may not use, copy and reproduce such trademarks.
- Ata Holding is exclusively authorised to make changes to or remove any contents of the website at any time without being under the obligation to serve notices and it does not guarantee that such contents will be available on the website or that they will not be modified. Ata Holding may not be held responsible for any consequences and/or damages that may be caused by any such content changes and/or removal.

- References or links for contents provided by external providers (“links”) are separate from the contents on Ata Holding’s own website. Ata Holding’s embedding a link to an external web page (“hyperlink”) does not mean that such external web page or its contents belongs to Ata Holding and Ata Holding may not be held responsible for any infringement in such external links. The link owner may be directly held responsible and you, users of our website, must directly apply to the owner of the link.

- If any criminal complaints or official investigation claims against you are received from governmental authorities and/or if you are found out to have committed any electronic sabotage or attack that may prevent the functioning of Ata Holding systems, Ata Holding has the right to research your identity details, visitors of our website, and serve notice to governmental authorities.
